

DNBi®

Experience the Power

By now you've probably heard that the NACM has renewed its partnership with Dun & Bradstreet. That's great news. The NACM and D&B partnership has been revitalized to provide you with more powerful credit management solutions to help manage your risk more easily and with confidence - especially during these uncertain economic times. Through our collective efforts we're sure we'll change the way you look at business risk forever.

The DNBi Triple Advantage

Power

DNBi Risk Management Solutions empowers professionals like you to make more informed, efficient, and insightful credit decisions by providing real-time, web-based access to over 168 million global businesses. With more than one billion trade experiences at your fingertips you'll encounter a whole new level of customer insight.

Freedom

View all of your customers' business information in real-time, all the time, however you like throughout the term of your contract.

Confidence

Have the confidence that you'll receive outstanding service from your trusted NACM representative with support from a dedicated DNBi consultation and technical support team.

Risk Management Made Easy

DNBi Risk Management is the only Web-based risk management solution that blends powerful on-demand tools with your data and D&B's business information and insight in one place.

A Better Way to View Your World

With DNBi, you'll have access to the DNBi Dashboard, an at-a-glance summary of all the information you need to make business-critical decisions. Here you'll have the ability to explore the entire D&B database, customize your layout to meet your needs, establish a customer watch list and view aggregate customer information. With access to our News and Alerts feature you'll also be able to closely monitor changes in your customer portfolio on a daily basis.

A Better Way to Research Companies

Each time you view company information in DNBi, you'll see the most complete and up-to-date business information available. With unlimited access you have the freedom to customize each view, review detailed financial statements and trade, document your decisions, track investigations, access a credit network of over 200,000 DNBi users, update company information and much more.

A Fast Way to Respond

One of the most powerful benefits of DNBi is that it monitors your customers for you. As an authoritative source for information and insight, our live reports provide a holistic view of your customers. Use these reports to spot trends, assess risk, refine credit limits and drive company profitability. You'll also receive instant, customized notifications so you can take immediate action.

